

2024 Sower Award Nomination Form

Humanities Nebraska presents the Sower Award in the Humanities annually to honor an individual who has made a significant contribution to the public understanding of the humanities in Nebraska. This contribution can be made through any combination of time, expertise, or resources. The selection committee will consider how nominees have helped enrich the lives of Nebraskans through the humanities: history, literature, culture, philosophy, and all the ways we explore what it means to be human.

The 2024 Sower Award in the Humanities will be presented immediately prior to the Governor's Lecture in the Humanities in Lincoln The award recipient must agree in advance to attend the event. As in recent years, only individuals are eligible for nomination. Current board and staff members of Humanities Nebraska are not eligible.

Previous honorees have included:

- Talented humanities faculty who have taken the humanities to the public beyond their classroom;
- Committed volunteers dedicating their time and energy to enhancing the cultural life of Nebraska;
- Thoughtful journalists and filmmakers bringing the humanities to bear on important public issues;
- Generous philanthropists who have directed significant financial support to humanities-related programs and projects accessible by Nebraskans
